Calendarlabs.com Its name may make it sound like there’s a lot of experimentation going on here, and you might be tempted to experiment with some of the more unique offerings on Calendarlabs.com after you’ve found an everyday printable that meets your needs. Photo Courtesy: CalendarsQuick The free calendars here come in weekly and monthly varieties, and there’s a customizable option that lets you insert elements like holidays, action items and lines for notes. Once you’re in the Creator, you can design a fully customized calendar in multiple languages. If you think getting organized deserves an element of fun, check out the free printable calendars from Saturday Gift. There’s even a Netflix calendar that tells you the dates when new programming is hitting the streaming site and old shows are making their exits. Photo Courtesy: Saturday Gift Most of the calendars here are monthly and yearly designs, although you can find some weekly options to suit your needs. The site offers free access to 12 of the most popular printables in its library. It also allows you to access free printable calendar templates that have a few customization options. But the website also offers several free printable calendar templates. Many of the options here are much more colorful than the others on this list, with bright artwork and themes that can add some pizzazz to your office wall. You can also find printables, like free calendars, at the software’s official website. Office.com. Calendars That Work What’s in a name? Many are designed with particular font and color themes, which can help your paperwork feel more cohesive and like an entire calendar system, not just a page you print out and tack up on the wall. In addition to blank printables that you can fill in so they’re customized exactly how you want them, you’ll also find daily, weekly, monthly and yearly calendars in a variety of formats, from Word to Excel to PDF. Office.com When you need any sort of office-related template, Microsoft Office software is always a great resource. The site is organized well, too, dividing the calendars by purpose and length of time, and you can further filter them down to find exactly what suits your needs. And some people simply remember things better when they write them down using a pen and paper. You’ll find school calendars, calendars with religious holidays, astrology calendars and make-your-own photo calendar templates — yes, for those big yearly flippable calendars grandparents love to get around the new year. You’ll find health trackers, daily planners and options created for people with visual impairments who benefit from large, bold text. However, you also have the option to print them directly from the site by choosing a printable format for the one you need. Photo Courtesy: Calendarlabs.com The site also offers totally blank printable calendars that are customizable for any month and year. After adding a few more details, you can download the calendar via a PDF file and print it. Each calendar template is designed to fit neatly on a standard 8.5-inch by 11-inch sheet of paper. Photo Courtesy: Waterproofpaper.com To print the calendar you like, simply choose the year or month you want, download the PDF file of the template and choose the print option on your computer. The calendars here are simple with clean lines and basic colors. You can edit the template right in your browser, and you can share it with students, coworkers and family members so that multiple people can access and edit it before you print it. You can print one right now from home or while you’re at work when you check out the myriad options available on these websites with printable calendar templates. Beyond the basics, you’ll find dozens of different printable calendar templates on the site, including daily planners, social media calendars, illustrated calendars and more. That said, the site also has a few extras for shoppers, including free printable calendars. MORE FROM QUESTIONSANSWERED.NET Photo Courtesy: Calendars That Work Calendars That Work isn’t just all, well, work and no play, either. You’ll have the ability to choose everything from local state holidays to specific formatting elements to color-coding selections for each day of the week. Like Saturday Gift, A Piece of Rainbow offers a library of free printable calendars with more modern and unique fonts. You’ll also find unique printables to supplement your calendar — think fillable bucket lists, sleep logs, and book and habit trackers. A Piece of Rainbow This site — and one of its calendars in particular — is just too cool to leave off the list. Simply print one out on durable cardstock, cut out the template and fold it up; it really is a little piece of a rainbow for your desk. Waterproofpaper.com Waterproofpaper.com is a retail site that sells all things related to — as you might guess — waterproof paper, from copier paper to notebooks and even waterproof pens and pencils. Photo Courtesy: Calendarlabs.com Once you’ve chosen your main calendar, have a little fun exploring the other scheduling tools on Calendarlabs.com. Options here go beyond the basic monthly and yearly calendars and include astrology calendars, daily planners, school calendars, photo calendars, fiscal calendars, bank holiday calendars, world holiday calendars and family calendars. These include major public holidays, common observances, religious observances for various faiths, moon phases, astronomy events and international observances. Photo Courtesy: SDI Productions/E+/Getty Images Whether you need them for the office, the classroom or your refrigerator at home, a paper calendar helps you get organized and stay on top of your to-do list and appointments. Saturday Gift While basic, traditional calendars with familiar fonts and few frills work well for many of us, others prefer some pizzazz that helps their calendars feel more personal and pretty. You do have the option to sign up and pay for a subscription to view and print the hundreds of other calendars in its catalog, but if you’re looking for a basic calendar to see if you can get into the habit of using one, this site is a great choice. You have the ability to print out an entire year’s worth of pages on the paper size and in the orientation of your choosing, too. Choose from daily, three-day, weekly, bi-weekly, monthly and yearly options. Photo Courtesy: Teamup.com Once you select the template you want, it’ll pop up in a new browser window, and you can select which dates you want to print. If you want your printable to enhance your home or office decor, not compete with it, the options here are ideal. But for at-a-glance date tracking and something colorful and fun for your office, you really can’t beat these. Many of the designs here feature color-coordination and themed graphics to add a bit of extra interest while keeping you organized. They also include federal and major holidays for extra convenience. Calendar pages also come in handy for doing crafts, teaching young children and maintaining shared schedules at work and at home. Fortunately, you don’t need to head out to an office supply store and purchase a calendar. Even if you choose to edit them in your browser, you’ll need to be signed in to your Office account or to a Hotmail or Outlook email address to do so. Customize monthly calendars for any time of any year by changing up start dates, fonts, colors and more. Teamup.com is the site for the Teamup calendar, a virtual calendar that allows groups like classrooms, offices and families to edit and work from the same online source via their computers and mobile devices. You can print by the year or the month up to seven years in advance. Photo Courtesy: A Piece of Rainbow Still need a printable calendar you can get more use out of — and actually write things down on? Sure, digital calendars are convenient — we can take them everywhere we go on our smart devices — but paper calendars provide easy, at-a-glance visual reminders to everyone who passes through the common areas of a home or workspace. After downloading this site’s calendars you can edit and update many of the files using Microsoft Office tools. It’s true the digital age has provided us with a multitude of apps, device and gadgets that help us manage our scheduling conundrums, but sometimes we remember things best when we write them down on paper, old-school style, with physical calendars we can display. Where Calendarlabs.com’s vast selection can feel a little intimidating to some — there’s a lot to browse — CalendarsQuick makes decisions a bit easier. They’re not the most efficient for planning, as there’s no space on them where you can write. You’ll find standard and weekly calendars geared towards both business and personal use, along with those you can use for other more specific blocks of time — think 7-, 10- and 14-week calendars you can reserve for use with work projects or personal goals. Once you’ve customized your template to your liking, you can simply select the option to print, and you’ll have an easy-to-access calendar that you can keep on your desk or hang on a bulletin board or the fridge. Photo Courtesy: Microsoft Office It’s worth noting that you’ll need to have a subscription to Microsoft Office or already have access to the program if you want to download the templates. You can give the calendar of your choice a title, choose which country you live in, pick the year and months you want to be a part of your calendar, and then select any additions you want. While there are more minimalistic styles here, where Saturday Gift really shines is in its self-professed “cute” calendars — ones with swooping calligraphy scripts, lesser-used fonts and charming graphics meant to put a smile on your face. CalendarsQuick Want to keep things simple? Timeanddate.com Timeanddate.com is a site that provides you with access to and information on time zones, world clocks, weather, moon and sun schedules, timers, calculators and even some fun apps. Teamup.com Want a blend of digital and physical for the best of both worlds with your calendar? There’s also an option to sign up for the site’s “calendar forever” service. Calendarlabs.com Calendarlabs.com is another source for all things time and date, no matter what type of calendars you’re looking for. Each month, you can have the calendars of your choice sent to your email inbox so you’ll never forget to print out your upcoming pages. This site is jam-packed with calendars you can really put to work. Designs range from simple monthly pages to calendars that are half gorgeous artwork, half scheduling squares. Photo Courtesy: Timeanddate.com For full customization, select the site’s Advanced Calendar Creator from the Calendar tab on the homepage. These calendars are geared more towards office workers due to the features they offer, and making a choice here couldn’t be easier. Browse for calendars with extra lines for note-taking, or take a look at the create-your-own templates to combine the different features you want in your printable planner. In addition to calendars, the website offers information about religious holidays for different faiths, options to make your own photo calendar, a world clock, widgets and information about today’s date in history. If you’re looking for a free printable that’s both tactile and unique, not just something to hang up on the fridge, you’ll love A Piece of Rainbow’s DIY dodecahedron calendars. If you’re looking for free printable calendars to create your own organization system or reinforce new habits, check out the websites below to find some helpful options. The options here are basic, but if you’re looking for a simple solution and don’t want to search through pages of different designs and templates, this site is a convenient resource. A lot. MORE FROM QUESTIONSANSWERED.NET Photo Courtesy: Image Source/Stockbyte/Getty Images It seems like everyone is busier these days, and keeping up with everything from work deadlines to kids’ sports practices to your pet’s vet appointments can make things complicated — there’s a lot to juggle, after all.
